

Senator Pamela Althoff - R- Crystal

Work continues on pension reforms. Like state government, local governments across the state have seen their budgets strained as more and more tax dollars go to public employee pensions. This year, I teamed up with lawmakers on both sides of the aisle to reform our municipalities' pension systems, with an emphasis on fire and police pensions. Work continues on this very important issue because it's essential we relieve the financial burden municipalities are facing – to restore fiscal stability and to ensure the priorities of all taxpayers are taken care of. As someone who comes from a family with four generations of firefighters, it's also important to protect our police and firefighters – who put their lives on the line every day to ensure our safety.
